HANOVER, Mass. (AP)—An explosion and fire ripped through a production building at a sprawling munitions plant here today, freeing an undetermined quantity of a riot control agent similar to tear gas.

Fire officials declared the blaze under control about an hour after it broke out and cancelled orders for an area-wide evacuation.

Several firemen were overcome by the fumes, but their condition was not believed serious.

There were no reports of injuries as a direct result of the fire or explosion.

The agent was identified by a plant spokesman only as "CS," its effect is similar to that of tear gas, he said.

A brisk wind and light rain kept the fumes from collecting in the area in any great concentration, firemen said.

Gas masks and resuscitators were rushed to the scene to aid the fire fighting efforts.

The building was used in the production of cartridge launchers for the CS substance, the spokesman said.

The initial explosion was thought to have originated in the launcher assembly area, but this could not be confirmed immediately.

Initial reports said one of the employees in the building sensed something wrong prior to the explosion and sounded an alarm that enabled everyone to get outside before the blast hit.

The building was damaged heavily, firefighters said.

The facility—owned by Atlantic Research Corp., a division of Susquehanna Corp.—also makes ammunition, land mines and hand grenades for the military.

A explosion and fire at the plant two years ago killed one person and injured 14 others.

The CS substance was stored in canisters which began popping in the intense heat.

The plant employees about 1,400 persons.

Delegate System to Be Changed

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana said today that a special committee of the state Democratic party soon will begin work on legislation to change Arkansas' method of selecting delegates to national party conventions.

Present law provides that delegates be chosen by the state committees of both the Democratic and Republican parties in a process started two years before the conventions.

Arnold, a lawyer who is chairman of the special committee, said in an interview that the national Democratic party's Commission on Party Structure and Delegate selection would meet in Washington Nov. 19-20 to finalize guideline recommendations.

Arnold said he would call the first meeting of his committee in December or early next year.

The committee has not met since its appointment in 1968, he said, because "we don't know exactly what the guidelines will be" until after the commission makes its report.

Blood Bath Price of Pullout

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Marshall Wright, a member of the U.S. State Department, says an immediate pullout of U.S. troops in South Vietnam would result in a "blood bath."

Wright made the statement Monday at a meeting of the El Dorado Rotary Club. Wright, a native of El Dorado, said he favored President Nixon's plan to gradually withdraw American troops from the war zone and turn the war over to the South Vietnamese.

Wright denied that the State Department had sent him out to "drum up" support for Nixon's war policies. He said he came to Arkansas at the request of various organizations in the state.

Moon Flight Simulated in 'Copter

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 12 astronauts, who will fly the world's most sophisticated machine to the moon, train today in more prosaic vehicles—a helicopter and a jet plane.

Charles Conrad Jr., who will command the mission, planned to operate the helicopter as if he were hovering the lunar landing craft before selecting a landing spot on the moon.

Richard F. Gordon Jr., the command module pilot, will zip across southern Florida in a T38 jet to sharpen his flying proficiency. He will orbit the moon next week while Conrad and Alan L. Bean explores the surface below.

Bean planned to run through emergency checkout procedures in the lunar module training vehicle.

At the launch pad everything continued on schedule as crews prepared the Saturn 5 rocket and the two spaceships for launching at 11:22 a.m. EST Friday.

Apollo 12 is to swing into orbit around the moon next Monday night, and at 1:53 a.m. next Wednesday Conrad and Bean are to fly the lunar craft they call Antepid to a landing in the Ocean of Storms.

A major goal of the flight is a pinpoint landing. Apollo 11 missed its landing point by four miles last July.

Conrad and Bean hope to touch down within walking distance of an unmanned Surveyor craft which soft-landed on the moon 2½ years ago. They intend to retrieve pieces of the Surveyor to determine how well the materials have withstood the battering of micrometeorites and exposure to the solar wind, a constant outpouring of high speed particles from the sun.

The astronauts are to remain on the moon 31½ hours, each working outside a total of seven hours. They'll deploy a set of scientific instruments and collect carefully documented rocks.

L.R. Asks Aid for Air Terminal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock Airport Commission voted Monday to ask the state's congressional delegation for aid in obtaining more than $1 million in federal aid in 1971.

Airport Manager Bob Crisp said the money is needed to pave ramps and taxiways for the new terminal and to reimburse the commission for the costs of land acquisition.

"If we don't get the money, we're going to be in serious trouble," Crisp said.

Feelers Put Out on Arms Conference

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. negotiators plan to sound out Soviet representatives at Helsinki before offering any specific proposals to curb the superpower missile race.

The United States thus will not open the U.S.-Soviet talks with a proposed moratorium on the development of multiwarhead missiles—an idea which has had considerable support in Congress.

But President Nixon may send a generally worded message to the opening Strategic Arms Limitation Talks—SALT—next week, stressing American interest in halting the nuclear race.

Nixon met at length with the National Security Council Monday in shaping the U.S. approach to the long-awaited negotiations.

The preliminary discussions start in Helsinki next Monday and the chief U.S. negotiator, Gerard Z. Smith, intends to stop off at Brussels Friday to brief NATO allies.

The Americans hope during the preliminary round to find out about the Soviet approach to strategic disarmament and to stake out the boundaries for the future negotiations.

Washington now knows little about Moscow's concepts. For example, do Soviet strategists rate MIRVs—multiple independently targetable vehicles—and ABMs—antiballistic missiles—as part of the same weapons problem and thus favor dealing with both at the same time?

As for the scope of the negotiations, the United States wants

Fair, Cool Forecast Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only the risk of scattered showers exists to dampen the pleasant weather Arkansas has been experiencing.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the few scattered showers reported around the state today were triggered by a weak low pressure trough that moved into Arkansas from the west Monday.

The chance of scattered showers will exist over Arkansas until a fast moving cool front, headed southward through the southern Plains today, moves through North Arkansas tonight and over the state late tonight and Wednesday.

The front is expected to bring drier and more stable air into Arkansas. Temperatures tonight and Wednesday should average four to eight degrees cooler.

Rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. today included a trace at Harrison, .04 of an inch at Jonesboro and .02 at Blytheville.

Overnight lows around the state included 49 at Fayetteville, 54 at Harrison and Jonesboro, 56 at Pine Bluff, 61 at Texarkana, 52 at El Dorado, 55 at Memphis, 50 at Little Rock and 54 at Blytheville.

to exclude from the bargaining those missiles it deems nonstrategic—not long-distanced enough for an intercontinental strike.

This would leave out of the negotiations the 7,000 A.S. warheads reported positioned in West Europe to defend NATO countries and the Soviet missiles in East Europe aimed at West European targets.

U.S. negotiators also want to exclude from the discussions the weapons of other countries—both of the West European and East European satellite states and of Communist China.

The Americans hope to reach agreement in a matter of weeks at Helsinki on a definition and a program for full-scale negotiations.

This would set the stage for the next round, which U.S. negotiators hope will start shortly thereafter and speedily get into key issues such as what to do about MIRV. Meanwhile, both sides are testing multiwarhead rockets.

Parliament May Come to Queen's Aid

By ANDREW TORCHIA
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson informed Parliament today that Queen Elizabeth II is running into the red financially and that a committee would be appointed to consider giving her a raise.

The announcement followed Prince Philip's comments on the royal finances in an American television interview, although Wilson told Parliament the decision to consider a royal increase had already been taken before that.

Philip's remarks on the drain in the Queen's wallet set off a clamor between royalists and antimorarchists in Britain.

The queen receives $1.14 million in annual income from the state plus $480,000 from property owned by the crown.

Wilson said that last year it became clear that the annual royal grant was "falling far short of the total cost for which it had been provided."

It was estimated that the reserve would be exhausted and the queen would move into deficit on her state allowances by the end of 1973, he said.

Hope Lions Club enjoyed a musical program arranged by Hubert Thrash at their regular meeting Monday noon. The club heard folk songs, popular music and hymns.

UN Expected to Reject Red China

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly was expected to vote no again today on the annual resolution to seat Communist China in the United Nations.

Peking's chances of winning the Chinese seat now held by the Nationalists was rated nil after several days of lackluster debate which produced little change in basic positions.

It was the 19th time in 20 years that the assembly has debated the China question. But it was a far cry from the early bouts when the issue was a hot one, and invective echoed through the assembly hall.

Before the assembly was the usual pro-Peking resolution to seat the Chinese Communists and expel Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, and the anti-Peking resolution holding that to change China's representation requires a two-thirds majority.

The vote was expected to run about like it did last year, when the two-thirds resolution was approved 73-47 with 5 abstentions, and the admission resolution was defeated 58-44 with 23 abstentions.

The Soviet Union for the first time did not take part in the debate, but delegates from other Communist nations made plain in their speeches that the Soviet bloc would vote again for Peking.

Also silent were India, once a champion of Peking's cause, and Canada, Italy and Belgium, all three of whom are in the process of establishing diplomatic relations with the Chinese Communist government.

The United States as usual opposed seating the Chinese Communists. But the U.S. spokesman in the debate, Rep. J. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., said that Washington would continue to try to open a dialogue with Peking despite the rebuffs it has received.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. KENNETH ROBERT FREEMAN

St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Shreveport, La., was the setting for the wedding of Miss Paula Frances Turner and Ensign Kenneth Robert Freeman at 2 p.m. Saturday, November 8. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Turner of Shreveport, formerly of Hope, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement A. Freeman of Alexandria, La.

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with a fan-shaped design of rose asters and pale pink glads flanked by glowing tapers of pale pink. Foliage was caught with pink satin bows. The organist, Mrs. Floy Woodul Young, played traditional wedding marches and hymns, including "Ave Maria," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress designed and made by her mother. The full-length A-line gown of white peau de sole had a portrait neckline, long, tapered sleeves and a shaped Empire waistline defined in hand-beaded imported French lace. The detachable chapel train fell from a back bow and was enhanced by lace appliques. The fingertip veil of layered silk illusion was held in place by a full flower band accented with crystal beads. The bride wore an heirloom lavalier centered with a diamond, which had belonged to her aunt. She carried a crescent cascade of flowing white gladioli centered with a bridal orchid.

Miss Twila Hunt of Hope, cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor. Two other cousins of the bride, Miss Betty Putman, and Miss Sandra Putman, both of Shreveport, were bridesmaids. All wore A-line dresses in shades of pink featuring high-rise Empire waists, brief cap sleeves, jewel necklines edged in pearls, and back bow interest. In their hair they wore Diro bows centered with a single ornament of pearls and aurora sequins. Mock baskets of rose asters and pink and white accent flowers were carried on velvet handles.

Richard F. McConnell, Jr. of Fort Worth, Tex., was the best man. Groomsmen, who also ushered, were William F. Terbot of Pineville, La., and Gene Baker of Alexandria, La.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in Newman Hall at the church with Mr. and Mrs. Turner, parents of the bride, serving as hosts. Receiving at the door with the newlyweds were their parents and members of the bridal party. Guests were

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Television this season seems to be proving, if nothing else, that old friends are best friends.

In the most recent national Nielsen ratings lists, every one of the 10 most popular TV series is at least two years old—and have survived for six or more years.

The report, covering shows broadcast between Oct. 27 and Nov. 2, is typical of the season's showing. NBC's "Laugh-In" is in first place and is two years old. A close second is CBS' "Red Skelton Show," age 19. Third is "Gunsmoke," now 15.

Then there is NBC's "Bonanza," 10; CBS' "Mayberry, R.F.D.," which, if you count its years as "The Andy Griffith Show," is seven; NBC's "The Wonderful World of Disney" on the networks for 16 years, and CBS' "Beverly Hillsbillies," eight.

The younger crowd in the Nielsen elite group includes "Family Affair," four, and Glen Campbell's variety hour, two. A bit farther down the list there are "Here's Lucy," starring a performer who has been on television for 18 years, and "My Three Sons" which started 10 years back.

"Gunsmoke," leading the list a week ago and in show position this time, is probably a source of pride and embarrassment to CBS executives. Only a couple of seasons back the show was abruptly canceled—not so much for inadequate numbers of viewers but because many of them were older and nonurban.

There were loud howls of rage, a blizzard of mail and "Gunsmoke" was relieved. It was moved out of its late time slot and, with some of its raw action removed, became more popular than ever in an early evening time period that attracted a young family audience.

In the current ratings, only one new show, Bill Cosby's situation comedy, has stuck like a burr in the top 20 shows. But Cosby can hardly be counted a new face in TV after those "I Spy" seasons.

NBC, incidentally, jumped back in the lead in the weekly averages, building a 19.7, to CBS' 18.9. ABC followed with 15.4. Although CBS and ABC plan to replace their weakest shows at midseason, it seems likely now that NBC will stick with its original entries through the winter although there may be some reshuffling of time spots.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Putman of Hope and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turner of Hope. She is a graduate of C. E. Byrd High School in Shreveport and of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston, La., where she received a B. A. degree in English education in March, 1969, and was a member of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary organization.

The bridegroom is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Bourg of Alexandria, La., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Freeman of Napoleonville, La. He is a graduate of Menard High School in Alexandria, La., and of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston, La., where he received a B. S. degree in mathematics and computer technology in May, 1968. He was commissioned at Naval Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I., in June, 1969, and is presently serving with STRIKE Command at MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa, Fla.

LETTER FROM A LITTLE BROTHER

Dear Helen: I have four years to go before I'll be a teen-ager, so maybe you don't use stuff from kids who are almost 10, but I like to read your column, so I am going to write about my BIG SISTER.

A big sister is someone that you can pick on. And someone that you can't trust to keep secrets. When she's in a bad mood, she teases you and sometimes slaps you, but she also helps you with multiplication tables and makes cookies.

She gets you to talk to boys for her and she'll ask you what they said about her. She'll try anything to look better, from green stuff that makes her face so stiff it cracks—and then she washes it off—to a drawerful of gunk she puts on afterwards. She keeps asking if she looks all right after she sets her hair or any corny thing she wastes time on. But you gotta admit she does, except you wouldn't tell her that. Sometimes she comes out with dishes that are good, when she doesn't ruin them with mushrooms and wine. But she hates to wash dishes, and boy, does she use a lot.

She likes to wrestle with me even if I can beat her. Sometimes I let her win to make her feel better.

I guess a big sister is pretty okay. Anyway, if it wasn't for mine, I wouldn't have been able to write this.—A NICE BROTHER

Dear Brother: I use stuff from people of all ages—especially if they write good stuff like you do! —H.

Dear Helen: This may not be advice column stuff, but it will help a lot of kids in their social science and other class reports. These statistics read by our minister not long ago, really shook me up! Did you know that:

If the three billion people in the world could be represented in a community of one hundred: Six would be United States citizens; 94 would be citizens of other countries.

Six would own one-half of the money in the world; 94 would share the other half; of the 94, 20 would eventually own virtually all the remaining half.

Six would have 15 times more in material possessions than the other 94 put together.

Six have 72 per cent more than the average daily food requirements; two-thirds of the 94 would have below-minimum food standards, and many would be starving.

The life span of six would be over 70 years. The life span of 94 would be about 39 years.

Of the 94, 33 would come from countries where the Christian faith is taught. Of the 33, 24 would be Catholic and nine would be Protestant.

Less than one-half of the 94 would have heard the name of Christ, but the majority of the 94 would know of Lenin.

Among the 94 there would be three communist documents which outsell the Bible.

By the year 2000, one out of every two persons will be Chinese—COLLEGE STUDENT

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences.

Arkansas Still in No. 4 Spot

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's a bird, it's a plane, it's... Ohio State!

Ohio State's impregnable Buckeyes, the supermen of college football, continue to fly high as the nation's No. 1 team.

The Buckeyes, who hit the bullseye last weekend with a 62-7 execution of Wisconsin, drew 25 of 32 first place votes Monday in the weekly poll of sports writers and broadcasters across the nation.

The men of steel from the Midwest roped 618 points overall and kept a stranglehold on first over Texas' battering Longhorns, 570, a 56-14 winner over Baylor.

Tennessee, which cut down South Carolina, 29-14, remained third, while Arkansas, a 30-6 winner over Rice, stayed fourth, and Penn State remained in fifth place after an idle weekend.

The Top Ten remained virtually the same as last week. Notre Dame dropped from eighth to ninth and Missouri climbed a spot to eighth in the only change.

Southern California held onto sixth after pasting Washington State, 28-7; UCLA stayed in seventh after a day off; Missouri hammered Oklahoma, 44-10; Notre Dame unloaded on Pitt, 49-7, and No. 10 Purdue ran over Michigan State, 41-13.

Both Ohio State and Texas managed to win big despite depleted squads. Rex Kern, the Buckeyes' magical junior quarterback, was out with an injury and 14 starters were on the shelf for Texas with a virus.

The Buckeyes, unbeaten in seven games, risk their record and ranking this weekend against Purdue, probably their toughest challenge of the season.

Few changes marked the Second Ten. Auburn and Louisiana State held on to 11th and 12th places respectively. Stanford moved up from 14th to 13th and Michigan made the biggest advance—from No. 18 to No. 14.

Florida, Georgia and Nebraska rank 15th, 16th and 17th. Mississippi is 18th, Houston, 19th, and the Air Force, No. 20.

Internat'l U.S. Entries Non-Native

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAUREL, Md. (AP)—The idea of the Washington, D.C., international is to have top foreign horses race against America's best, but that's not exactly the case this year.

Certainly, the United States is represented, but the two representatives are American only in ownership and by the fact that they have been racing in this country. They are foreignbred.

Charles Engelhardt's Hawaii, the early-line favorite for today's 18th running of the International at Laurel, was bred in South Africa and Gustave Ring's Czar Alexander, the second choice, was bred in Ireland.

It was the first time in the history of the race that an American-bred was not in the field.

Others in today's running of the $150,000 test of 1 1/4 miles on the grass were Karabas of England, Hitchcock of Germany, Takeshiba-O of Japan, Sabinus of Brazil and Don Florestan of Venezuela.

Post time was 3:38 p.m., EST.

The United States has won eight Internationals. France is next with five victories, and Venezuela, England, Australia and Ireland have won one each.

One Catholic to Shout for Georgia Tech

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—If the ABC-TV cameras sweep the stands during Saturday night's Notre Dame-Georgia Tech football game in Atlanta, look for a young man in a clerical collar. He'll be rooting against Notre Dame.

"I'm not so Catholic that I'd root against Georgia Tech," said the Rev. Paul Kelly, 31, who grew up in Atlanta and is principal of St. Joseph High School a few blocks from the Tech campus.

"You've almost got to be from Atlanta to be for Georgia Tech," he added. "The University of Georgia is the state university. Generally, only people from Atlanta root for Tech."

Notre Dame and Georgia Tech resumed their series two years ago—they hadn't met since 1959—with the Irish winning 36-3 in 1967 and 34-6 last season. They've been black years for Father Kelly.

"There's been very little honor in them for me," he lamented. "What's humorous about losing? Besides, most of the priests here always root for Notre Dame. The Tech-Notre Dame game is always a common topic. We always argue, of course, and maybe there's a few bets. I usually end up losing."

Is there a bet on this year's game? "Yes," How much? "No comment."

When Notre Dame plays any other team, though, Father Kelly has no objection to rooting for the Irish.

Father Kelly remembers the 1967 game when he and his brother, an associate professor of industrial management at Tech, somehow wound up with tickets on the Notre Dame side.

An elderly lady seated near Father Kelly snuffed indignantly when he stood to applaud a Tech first down.

Gillman Quits the Chargers

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP)—It was the high point of the San Diego Chargers' downhill season, a victory over the New York Jets. General Manager-Head Coach Sid Gillman knelt along the sideline. He couldn't bear the pain of standing.

Six weeks after that American Football League upset, Gillman, 58, stepped down Monday as head coach, following the advice of his son-in-law doctor, Jay Malkoff.

Gillman, the only general manager and head coach the Chargers have had since the AFL was founded in 1960, remains as general manager. He announced at a hastily called news conference that offensive backfield coach Charlie Waller, 47, is his successor.

Waller played as a halfback at the University of Georgia. Gillman, who coached the Chargers to an 85-51-6 record, said of his health:

"It's nothing serious, nothing that can't be licked in time."

Malkoff said Gillman was suffering from a duodenal ulcer and an hiatal hernia, which allows stomach acid to seep up into the esophagus.

"He shouldn't have been out on the field," the doctor said of Gillman at the Sept. 28 game against New York. "He collapsed. He couldn't stand up for an entire quarter. He had to kneel there on the sideline."

That's when Malkoff started urging Gillman, in his 25th season as a head coach, to take it easy. Gillman was given a strict diet and he gilded cartoons of milk. His team's play did nothing to help his condition.

After New York the Chargers edged Cincinnati, Miami and Boston, then started a three-game losing streak against Oakland. Their record is 4-5, tying them for last in the Western Division.

"It wasn't our football that prompted my decision," Gillman said. "Physically, it meant either die with football or continue to live."

"My only disappointment is to finish this way. I never had any thought of quitting coaching. I was going to go and go and go."

Gillman coached the Rams from 1955 to 1959 before moving to the infant Chargers when they shared Memorial Coliseum with the Rams. The club moved to San Diego in 1961 and won the 1963 AFL championship and a total of five Western Division titles.

Gillman, who played end at Ohio State in the early 1930s, was head coach at Miami of Ohio from 1944 to 1947 and at the University of Cincinnati from 1949 to 1954. His record as a head coach in college and the pros is 192-102-9.

Knee Hurt, Chamberlain Out 13 Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the towering giant of the Los Angeles Lakers, regained the scoring lead but the National Basketball Association club may have lost its high scorer for the rest of the season.

Chamberlain injured his right knee Friday night against Phoenix and had a tendon operation Sunday. He is expected to be out for 13 weeks, possibly longer.

However, according to league statistics released today, the 7-foot-2 center still maintained his edge in scoring with a 32.2 average. Teammate Jerry West is next with 30.5.

Wes Unseld of Baltimore moved ahead of Chamberlain in field goal percentage with a .592 average. Wilt is at .579.

Flynn Robinson of Milwaukee tops the circuit in free throw percentage with 79 of 85 for a torrid .929 pace while Baltimore's Gus Johnson is the pace-setter in rebounds with 235, a 16.8 average.

Welterweight to Defend Crown

MONTREAL (AP)—Joey Durelle, Canadian welterweight boxing champion, officially agreed Monday to defend his title Dec. 9 against Donato Paduano.

Durelle insisted that he get a rematch within 90 days if he loses at the Montreal Forum but he failed to prevent Paduano from fighting within that period.

Paduano has a fight against Carlos Ortiz scheduled Jan. 26 in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Beard Still No.1 Winner in Golfing

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Beard picked up only $291 in the Hawaiian Open last weekend, but he still has a commanding lead over Dave Hill as the PGA's top money winner, according to statistics released Monday.

Beard, who has won two tournaments and finished second in the top five 10 times, has won $174,916 this season. Hill, who has three victories, has won $155,849.

Jack Nicklaus, who has won two tournaments in the last month and finished second in the Hawaiian Open, climbed into third place with $136,917.

But Beard and Hill are the only ones left in the race for the money winning crown. There are only two more tournaments left this season and even if Nicklaus wins both, he would fall short of Beard's current total.

The top 10 money winners with tournaments completed, victories and times finished in the top 10 in parentheses:

1. Frank Beard (30-2-10), $174,916
2. Dave Hill (26-3-10), $155,849
3. Jack Nicklaus (22-3-11), $136,917
4. Gary Player (16-1-10), $123,897
5. Bruce Crampton (30-1-6), $118,965
6. Gene Littler (20-2-7), $122,737
7. Ray Floyd (24-3-5), $109,956
8. Billy Casper (22-2-7), $104,589
9. Lee Trevino (29-1-7), $102,242
10. George Archer (26-2-4), $95,099

Large Kill Expected for Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The deer season opened in Arkansas Monday and, according to statistics, about 15 per cent of the hunters will score a kill during the three fall seasons.

Bob Leonard, chief of the Game and Fish Commission, says that hunters killed about 20,000 deer last year during the three seasons.

Hunters can bring home more than two deer this year if they buy a license and shoot an "antlerless deer" in one of three zones in the state.

The first deer season ends Saturday. The next two seasons are set for Nov. 27-29 and Dec. 1-3.

Giacomin Is Hockey's Big Thinker

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Giacomin, the thinking man's goaltender, has some homework to do tonight.

Giacomin, who'll be in the nets when the New York Rangers take on the Detroit Red Wings Wednesday, will do some leisurely reading from his little black book of NHL shooters to-night with special attention paid to the chapter on the Red Wings.

"Sure, I keep a book on them," the goalie said Monday. "Everytime a guy scores against me, I write it down with a description of how the goal came."

In a game as fast as hockey, sometimes a goalie doesn't have time to think about a shooter's style. But Giacomin believes that he still benefits from his book often enough to make the project worthwhile.

The goalie said he jots down his notes as soon as he gets home after a game or back to the team's hotel when the Rangers are on the road.

High School Football Poll Unchanged

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Little Rock Catholic and West Memphis must have made quite an impression on the voters in The Associated Press high school football poll.

They were the only two teams that advanced in this week's poll.

Catholic, a 33-0 winner over Russellville, moved from fifth to fourth. West Memphis, which whipped Little Rock McClellan 33-14, jumped from a tie for ninth into the No. 7 spot.

Little Rock Hall, Fort Smith Northside and Springdale retained the top three spots in the poll. Hall was a unanimous choice of the 12 Arkansas sportswriters and sportscasters.

Little Rock Central, which beat Fort Smith Southside 34-0, dropped from fourth to fifth in the poll.

Arkadelphia, still unbeaten after nine games, remains sixth and also tops the Class AA rankings.

Texarkana, which was idle last week, dropped a notch to eighth.

Newport remained ninth and Fayetteville, sporting a 73-record, moved into the No. 10 spot. Jonesboro, ranked eighth last week, was beaten for the second week in a row and dropped out of the top 10.

The AA rankings are unchanged with Newport and Rogers ranking second and third. McGehee again tops Class A, but is not a unanimous choice. Ashdown remains second but Rison and Augusta tied for third as Brinkley dropped out of the select group.

Murfreesboro, Stamps and Luxora continue to head the Class B rankings in that order. Here are the results of The Associated Press poll with first place votes and team records in parentheses and total points at right:

1. LR Hall (12) (7-0) 120
2. FS Northside (8-1) 105
3. Springdale (8-2) 97
4. LR Catholic (8-2) 90
5. LR Central (5-2-1) 64
6. Arkadelphia (9-0) 59
7. West Memphis (8-1) 44
8. Texarkana (6-3) 40
9. Newport (8-1) 32
10. Fayetteville (7-3) 11

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Augusta, El Dorado, FS Southside, Harrison, Jonesboro, McGehee, Murfreesboro and Rogers.

Class AA

1. Arkadelphia (11) (9-0) 33
2. Newport (8-1) 22
3. Rogers (1) (7-3) 11

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Bentonville, Harrison and Magnolia.

Class A

1. McGehee (10) (10-0) 32
2. Ashdown (9-1) 17
3. (tie) Rison (8-0-1) 8
- Augusta (1) (10-0) 8

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Alma, Berryville, Brinkley and Gravette.

Class B

1. Murfreesboro (7) (10-0) 31
2. Stamps (4) (9-0) 25
3. Luxora (9-1) 11

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Farmington, Gentry, Mineral Springs and Pea Ridge (1).

Southwest Conference Statistics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least two Southwest Conference football players are getting a kick out of the 1969 campaign.

Baylor punter Ed Marsh averaged a phenomenal 52 yards on six punts against Texas last Saturday to raise his season average to 45. on 48 punts. Marsh's average is ahead of the SWC record of 45.0 set by Southern Methodist's Dave Sherer in 1957.

Texas Tech's Jerry Don Sanders booted his ninth field goal of the season in Tech's 35-28 loss to Texas Christian last week. The boot tied the season record shared by Tony Crosby of Texas in 1963 and Kenny Vinyard of Texas Tech in 1967.

Southern Methodist's Chuck Hixon, the nation's leading passer, retained his lead in passing with 173 completions for 1,964 yards and a 60.3 per cent average.

But TCU's Steve Judy, the No. 2 passer, has gotten more mileage out of his 124 completions for 1,410 yards. Judy has hit 11 touchdown passes to eight for Hixon.

Arkansas' Bill Burnett regained the SWC rushing lead from Daryl Doggett of SMU with 615 yards in 144 carries. Burnett also leads in scoring with 78 points.

Penn State, Tennessee Bowl Elite

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP)—Sales pitches for college football's bowl games have been somewhat muffled by strict enforcing of NCAA rules, but the weekend ahead cuts loose the "super woo" on the nation's finest teams.

Penn State and Tennessee are the top items on most bowls' shopping lists. Both are undefeated and apparently undefeated.

Deals may not be made until noon Nov. 17 for post-season games, but the order has some teeth for the first time. Contracts have been agreed upon 14-7 win, with Nashville's lone score coming in the last minute. And it was their Homecoming, too, which means that everything goes this week and all past records are forgotten.

Nashville is 5-4 and faces its worst season in quite some time, after literally years and years and years of ruling the 7-A roost with Ashdown. Now, for the second straight year, Ashdown and Prescott meet this Friday for the title with the winner entering the state Class A playoffs.

It's been a long year for the Scrappers. After an opening 26-12 comeback win over Foreman, Head Coach Joe Goodrum underwent eye surgery and left the duties to assistant Edwin Dale, who has run the squad since.

Signs of problems cropped up in two straight losses, a 30-6 setback dealt by Ashdown and a 39-7 loss to mighty Arkadelphia, but an open week let some of the injuries heal and the Scrappers came back with a three-game winning streak.

They started by plastering Gordon 37-0, then surprised Broken Bow (Okla.) 7-6 before whipping a down DeQueen team 25-0. That made it 4-2 and much better, but the Prescott Curley Wolves outplayed Nashville and won going away 35-13 to ruin the Scrappers' title hopes.

That one shook the foundation, because Prescott-Nashville is as mean a rivalry as Hope-Nashville. But Coach Dale got them up for their last home game and Homecoming, which ended a 14-7 victory over the improved Men Bears who will play Hope as a 4-AA West opponent next fall.

However, the Scrappers ran into Magnolia last week on the Panthers' Homecoming and THEIR last home game, and guess who won. Down 13-7 at the quarter, Magnolia shook loose and won easily 34-19, but the after-effects for Nashville were much worse.

Fullback Larry Ray suffered a broken arm to end his soph season, and tackle Stan Reeder suffered a knee injury which is expected to hold him out of his last high school game. All-District tackle Johnny Blackwell broke an ankle last Thursday, and to cap it off the quarterback is sophomore Randy Walston, converted from halfback after Johnny Graves underwent knee surgery.

That, friends in Nashville, is not a desirable state of affairs with which to face the 8-2 Hope Bobcats, much less on this team's last home game and Homecoming.

Despite everything, you can bet that the Scrappers will come to Hammons Stadium with winning only in mind, and with breakaway threat Allen Ray ready to go at any time. And, besides, every coach with a brain knows that any team can beat anybody else on any given night. Some fans may need to know that when Arkansas plays Texas.

Monday night the Magnolia Panthers eked by the Hope 'B' Lizards 13-6 with a late score to decide what had been a 7-6 battle at Hammons Stadium.

Magnolia scored first with 3:50 left in the half, as Steve Northcutt ran over from the two to cap a 43-yard drive in six plays after an interception. The kick made it 7-0 at the half, but Hope scored with 2:42 left in the third period on a 79-yard run by Isaiah Hendrix.

A two-point conversion was missed to leave the Panthers ahead 7-6, and from that point the 'B' Lizard defense forced turnovers time and again until a last interception left Magnolia only eight yards to score the closing TD.

Cats Host Nashville in Home Finale

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sportswriter

Of all the football emotions, the last senior home game is a tough one. Friday night the Hope Bobcats wrap up their '69 home slate with Homecoming for the traditional slugfest with the Nashville Scrappers, with no holds barred.

And those Bobcats will feel that tinge of getting older during that game, even though a slim chance exists that the 4-AA Championship if involving Hope could be played here. Of course, Nashville has the biggie since it is their final game of the season, but with injuries and few seniors anyway most Scrappers and their fans are already thinking about next year.

Many adults who read this can remember plenty of Hope-Nashville epics, but a tradition in the long-time bitter rivalry is that the home team has a devil of a time in winning, if they do at all.

Just last year the Bobcats were underdogs but played their best in '68 and rolled to an easy 14-7 win, with Nashville's lone score coming in the last minute. And it was their Homecoming, too, which means that everything goes this week and all past records are forgotten.

Actually, Magnolia fumbled four times inside the Hope 20-yard line, twice into the end zone for touchbacks. The Lizards' fumbles and interceptions finally made the difference, though, and a drive that ended at the Panther three late in the first half was a factor.

That wrapped up the 'B' squad's 1969 schedule with a 12 record, though only one loss was worse than by two TD's and three were dropped by seven points or less. And the experience gained by those Bobcats not seeing action on Fridays has developed some depth in the form of Terry Vines at monster on defense, Ray Wheelington and Rusty Quillin along with Isaiah Hendrix in the offensive backfield, and numerous others who will be named later.

Golf
By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP)—Notes from the PGA tournament trail:

There is considerable speculation among northern California golf writers that the San Francisco Open may be dropped from the fall schedule next year.

The event, called the Lucky International until this season, was under the sponsorship in 1969 of the Chamber of Commerce.

The galleries were very, very sparse in the chilly, overcast weather and some reports have it that the sponsors dropped some $30,000.

They had to fight both pro and college football on the weekend and the people just didn't show.

The spring schedule already is filled, so the possibility exists that the tournament may disappear next year.

Cliff Brown got off one of the longest drives on the pro tour this year recently in a pro-am event in California. His drive on a par five hole hit on a cart path, took off and came to rest 418 yards from the tee.

The phone rang in the press room of a recent tournament. "Press room," the attendant answered, then listened a moment, cast a speculative look around at the confusion and said: "No ma'm. This is not the psychiatric ward. You're close, but this isn't it."

George Archer, the 6-foot-6 Masters champion who has had trouble with his driver since a recent siege of tendonitis in his elbow, said part of his trouble is flinching.

"Right at the top of the swing, I kind of flinch a little," big George said. "It doesn't really hurt any more. But I'm anticipating pain."

A number of the younger players on the tour are understandably nervous these days. The Tournament Players division is having a review of the players, and several approved player cards are due to be lifted, effective Jan. 1.

Without the cards, players are not eligible to compete in regular tour events. They have two options—either give it up, or regain their card through another session at the players school in Florida.

Seed vs. Size

The size of a seed has no bearing on the size of the plant that will grow from it. The tallest tree in the world, the California redwood, grows from a very small seed; the large seed of a watermelon will produce only a low vine.

Basketball Campaigns Tighten Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Red Robbins and the red-hot New Orleans Bucs and the Kentucky Colonels did their part Monday night to tighten up both races in the American Basketball Association.

Robbins drilled in 29 points and grabbed 21 rebounds in guiding New Orleans past Miami 123-116, while Kentucky turned back Indiana 110-100 in the night's only games.

Atlanta nipped Chicago 133-132 and San Diego edged San Francisco 100-99 in the only National Basketball Association games scheduled Monday night.

The Bucs' eighth straight victory boosted them into a second place tie with Dallas, just 13 percentage points back of Western Division leader Los Angeles.

Robbins, a 6-foot-8, 200-pound former Tennessee star, scored 13 of his points in the final period to ward off a Miami threat. He fouled out with 1:43 left in the game—the first time in his three-year ABA career.

Steve Jones scored 27 points and James Jones 24 for the Bucs, while Don Sidle led the last-place Floridians with 30.

Kentucky blew a 24-point lead, then had to fend off a late Indiana rally in pulling to within one-half game of the Eastern Division leaders.

College Football Wash

By HERSCHEL NESSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: Tiger Stadium before 68,000 screaming fans usually is the kiss of death for a visiting team, but Coach Charlie McLendon goes it one better.
When the Alabama team arrived in Baton Rouge Friday night, a group of pretty girls met the bus and one climbed aboard and planted a big kiss on Coach Bear Bryant's cheek.
Bryant turned to his players and introduced the young lady. "Boys," he said, "I'd like you to meet Miss Dorothy McLendon. She's coach Mac's daughter."
Later, Dorothy told her father, "Daddy, I put the kiss of death on Coach Bryant."
Saturday night, after a 20-15 victory that made him the first Bryant pupil to beat the master, McLendon commented, "I might just have 'Dee' kiss all the visiting coaches from now on."

Coach Dan Devine of Missouri calls Oklahoma quarterback Jack Mildren "probably the best sophomore ever to come into the Big Eight." So Saturday night, Devine sent senior Terry McMillan, who was only a third-stringer at Coral Gables, Fla., High School, out to do battle with the highly recruited Mildren.
All McMillan did was complete 1 of 37 passes for 312 yards and three touchdowns as Missouri romped 44-10.
How hard was McMillan recruited?
"One of his high school coaches got him a shot at Missouri Southern Junior College," Devine explained. "Missouri Southern was coached by one of our former quarterbacks, who recommended him to us."

Speaking of the Big Eight, did you know that Devine is the dean of conference coaches—at age 44. Floyd Cass of Oklahoma State is a Big Eight rookie, Iowa State's Johnny Majors is in his second season, while Chuck Fairbanks, Vince Gibson and Pepper Rodgers are in their third years at Oklahoma, Kansas State and Kansas, respectively.
The other veterans are Bob Devaney, who arrived at Nebraska in 1962, and Eddie Crowder, who came to Colorado a year later.
"The guys who left didn't leave of their own accord," Devine said. "They weren't planning on leaving."
And, observing that the newcomers are transforming weak sisters into powerhouses, Devine added:
"Each new coach asks his administration for more help here, more help there. It seems like the only way to get a change is to fire the coach. But since I'm also an athletic director, I'm against firing any football coaches."

If a father-son relationship was ever a candidate for strained feelings, it was Saturday when Wake Forest edged Virginia 23-21.
Center John Blackburn, son of the Virginia coach, snapped a ball that sailed over the punter's head and was kicked through the end zone for the safety that gave Wake Forest the triumph.
Ironically, a bad snap by first-stringer Denny Ryzek had enabled the Dacons to pull even at 21-11.

It was almost like an instant replay. Ernie Jennings, air Force flanker, got behind Utah State's Dennis Ferguson in the end zone . . . and dropped a perfect pass from Gary Baxter. On the next play, Jennings got behind Ferguson again . . . and held on for the first of his five touchdown grabs.

7 Million Paid for Oil Slick

LONDON (AP) — The American owners of the Torrey Canyon paid $7.2 million to Britain and France today to settle oil pollution claims filed after the giant tanker grounded off southwest England two years ago.
Lloyd's insurance brokers said they believed it was the biggest settlement in marine history over oil claims. Some 33 million gallons of oil spilled from the broken tanker and fouled French and British beaches.

Montreal Takes Over Hockey Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It took Jean Beliveau only two minutes to get Montreal rolling past Los Angeles, and into first place in the National Hockey League's East Division.
Beliveau scored twice in the opening two minutes Monday night in guiding the Canadiens to a 6-3 victory and a one-point lead over New York in the ragged older division chase.
Boston snapped a five-game winless streak by romping past Oakland 8-3 in the night's only other NHL activity.
It was the third straight victory for the Canadiens, now unbeaten in their last six games.
The game was just 1:16 old when Beliveau scored his third goal of the season. The Kings tied it nine seconds later on Ted Irvine's marker, but Beliveau countered at 2:04 to put Montreal ahead for good.

Bobby Rousseau and Henri Richard each added long range first period markers to boost the command to 4-1.
Jacques Lemaire accounted for the Canadiens' lone marker in the second period on a 30-foot slap shot, and Mickey Redmond's ninth goal of the season finished Montreal's scoring early in the final session.
Eddie Joyal and Leon Rochefort scored the Kings' other goals.

Linemates Johnny Nucky and John McKenzie each scored two goals and Bobby Orr contributed three assists as the Bruins moved into a third-place tie with Detroit, just two points back of Montreal.
Bucyk's sixth goal of the season snapped a 1-1 tie and put the Bruins ahead for good at 13:48 of the first period. He also scored in the second period in addition to picking up a pair of assists.
Fred Stanfield, Jim Lorentz, Dallas Smith and Jim Harrison also contributed goals for the Bruins, while Orr regained the NHL scoring lead from Phil Goyette of St. Louis with his 18th, 19th and 20th assists in just 13 games. He has scored two goals, giving him 22 points for the campaign.

Hawks' Win Streak Now Stands at 7

Lou Hudson earned star billing with a 57-point performance but the big hand of the night was awarded to Atlanta teammate Bill Bridges, whose last-second heroics enabled the Hawks to streak to their seventh consecutive National Basketball Association victory.
The Hawks edged the Chicago Bulls 133-132 Monday night at Auburn, Ala., on Bridge's tip-in of a desperation jumper by Walt Hazard just one second before the final buzzer. Chet Walker had put Chicago in front just nine seconds earlier, hitting two foul shots.

In the only other NBA action, San Diego ended its nine-game losing string with a 100-99 triumph over San Francisco at Salt Lake City, Utah.

In the American Basketball Association, Kentucky whipped Indiana 110-100 and New Orleans stopped Miami, 123-116.
Hudson, hitting mostly on long-range jump shots, tossed in 25 of 35 shots from the field and seven of eight free throws as he tied Bob Pettit's Hawks' record of most points in a game. Hudson cracked Pettit's team mark of 33 points in a half, hitting for 35 in the opening 24 minutes.

The San Diego game also was settled at the buzzer as Don Kojis of the Rockets hit a twisting 30-foot jumper to toll the Warriors.
Elvin Hayes led the Rocket scoring attack with 23 points.

With Detroit, just two points back of Montreal.
Bucyk's sixth goal of the season snapped a 1-1 tie and put the Bruins ahead for good at 13:48 of the first period. He also scored in the second period in addition to picking up a pair of assists.
Fred Stanfield, Jim Lorentz, Dallas Smith and Jim Harrison also contributed goals for the Bruins, while Orr regained the NHL scoring lead from Phil Goyette of St. Louis with his 18th, 19th and 20th assists in just 13 games. He has scored two goals, giving him 22 points for the campaign.

Boycott of Forrest City Is Urged

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — The Rev. E. A. Williams, a leader in the Committee for Peaceful Coexistence, Monday urged Negroes to participate in an economic boycott of white merchants at Forrest City.

Williams said, in a statement distributed among the black community, that Forrest City Negroes "are in the same old rut" and "Are no better off than we were before we staged a boycott here months ago."
"We must not spend money at any store until we fight for and get justice and equal opportunity," he said.

Williams suggested that Negroes obtain a bus to transport them to other areas to do their shopping.
Williams also criticized St. Francis County Judge W. B. Hamilton who recently ordered the county welfare office removed from the Courthouse.
"We must not sit idly by and let one man run our county," he said. "If we don't need

Catholic Clergy Ask Equality

A welfare officer in our county we do not need a county judge. We of CPC thought the county belonged to the people and not the judge.
Racial tension erupted at Forrest City last March when students at all-Negro Lincoln School destroyed school property in protest of the dismissal of a black teacher. Negroes picketed white merchants in downtown Forrest City during the summer and whites, in turn, picketed for "law and order."

Cotton Crop Is Put at 10 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated Monday that the 1969 cotton crop in Arkansas would be 1,135,000 bales with a yield per acre of 524 pounds.

The agency estimated the nation's cotton crop at 10,036,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight each, compared with 10,528,000 forecast in October and 10,948,000 produced last year. The crop reporting board estimates were made on the basis of field conditions on Nov. 1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An organization of Roman Catholic priests—saying some members are "growing angry and discouraged"—has called for a National Pastoral Council in which laymen and parish clergy would be on an equal footing with bishops and archbishops.
The Rev. Patrick O'Malley of Chicago, president of the National Federation of Priests Council, suggested the new group should share some powers of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops.
Addressing the bishop's conference Monday, Father O'Malley said some diocese priests councils are so often reminded by bishops they are only consultative "they are growing angry and discouraged."
"We as priests are asking for a share not only in the implementing of programs for the good of the church but in the planning and decision making for that church," he said.

Turkeys Off Holiday Market

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of turkeys found to contain heptachlor residue may have picked up the powerful pesticide from land treated for control of chiggers, according to a agriculture Department sources.

Chiggers, the same small mites which can cause humans to itch after working on lawns, are troublesome to turkey growers who want a nice, smooth bird to sell.

The department announced last Friday that 150,000 live turkeys and some four million pounds of turkey meat were held off the Thanksgiving market after heptachlor residue was found in some birds on Oct. 9 at a Minnesota processing plant.

Officials say all contaminated birds were traced to farms supplying Arkansas Valley Industries, Inc., headquartered in Little Rock. The department said the investigation would continue to determine how widespread the distribution has been. Officials said none of the contaminated birds had reached the retail market.

Dr. Gilbert H. Wise, head of consumer protection for the Consumer and Marketing Service, said Monday he did not know for certain how the pesticide came to be in the turkeys. He speculated, however, that it was possible they could have picked up the heptachlor from rangeland used to graze the birds.

Wise would not comment on the possibility that heptachlor had been used for control of chiggers. He acknowledged, however, that the small mites were a serious problem for poultrymen.

South let the opening club lead come around to his king. Then he laid down his ace of spades. West showed out but this didn't really faze our hero. He led his deuce of diamonds and went up with dummy's king in the vain hope that West had the ace. East won and returned a club to dummy's queen.

We approve of the quick play at trick three and of the long study South gave the hand before leading to trick five. Eventually he played dummy's jack of diamonds and ruffed East's queen with the three of trumps.

His next two plays were the ace of hearts and a low heart to the jack. Then he discarded his last club on the 10 of diamonds and a high heart on the nine. While East had to continue to follow suit. Now came the fifth diamond. East was down to trumps and chose to ruff with the nine. Not that it did him any good. South overruffed, ruffed his last heart with the queen of trumps and showed his hand. He was down to the last two tricks and could top which-ever trump East played after South led from dummy.

South was very happy and asked, "Pretty well played, wasn't it?"

It was beautifully played after the initial mistake, since it required a combination of perfect timing, plus a lot of good luck, to salvage the slam from the wreckage, but any really good player would have made the hand with no trouble at all.

The really good player would have led the three of trumps to dummy's queen at trick two. West would have shown out but South would have had no trouble picking up the trump suit. He would simply lead trumps twice from dummy, covering East's played card each time.

because of the lung cancer warning. He heard that the tobacco doesn't cause the harm but rather the cigarette paper, so now he smokes a pipe. Is this harmful?

A—It is a false assumption that tobacco, with its tars and nicotine, in any form is harmless. Although pipe or cigar smoking is not as likely to cause lung cancer as cigarette smoking, deaths from cancer of the lips and mouth are five times as frequent as in those who do not smoke at all. You might quote to your husband Adam Di Petto's slogan: "Kick the habit before you kick the bucket."

Q—Can smoking any brand of cigarettes make you sterile?

A—I can think of a lot of reasons to stop smoking but this is not one of them.</

Moon Landing Linked To Moratorium March

By ROGER DOUGHTY
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — If all goes well, on Nov. 14, a day that promises to see thousands of young people massed at the gates of the White House to protest the Vietnam war and the state of the nation in general, three men will step into an elevator in Florida, ride to the top of a Saturn 5 rocket, strap themselves into their capsule and blast off for the moon.

It's a good bet that things will be a lot more peaceful up there than they are down here.

Some people see little connection between the protest and the space probe but others, like Sam Baron, a New York University student and self-proclaimed "typical all-moratorium boy," read a lot more into it.

"I'll be in Washington," says Baron, "and I'll be as antiwar as anybody. But I'm also pro-people, and that means diverting the billions we're spending on making the moon a better place to live to making America a better place to live. Bring the boys home—from Vietnam and the moon."

"I've heard that argument," says Daniel J. Fink, general manager of General Electric's Space Division,

"and we're being squeezed from the other side, too. The government is cutting back on spending and the space program has been a tough spot."

GE, of course, is just one of many companies with more than a passing interest bus was looking for one thing when he set out, but he found something else. It's the same with the space program."

Fink feels that the $4 billion or so invested in space is small potatoes, considering what the nation is getting in return.

"We spend more on welfare, lipstick, just about everything," he claims, "without getting the kind of return we get from space exploration. We've already improved communications, advanced weather forecasting techniques, added new dimensions to medical technology and made tremendous advances in electronics—all as a direct result of space exploration."

"Progress over the next 10 years could make the past 10 years look like the past-T days of space history."

Maybe, but when astronauts Pete Conrad and Alan Bean put their footprints on the moon Nov. 19, with Richard Gordon orbiting overhead, a lot of people will be wondering if the trip was really necessary.

As Sam Baron says, "I've got nothing against the moon, but I live in New York. Sometimes the air is kind of hard to breathe here, too."

in space. But Fink maintains that the company is as interested in mankind as it is in making a buck.

"Sure, there are plenty of unsolved problems here on earth," he admits, "but space exploration can help solve those problems. Colum-

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ralph H. Wooten, who retired from the Air Force in 1968, died in a Memphis hospital Monday night after a heart attack. He was 76.

Wooten's last assignment before retiring was head of the Pacific Air Command, with headquarters at Hickam Field in Honolulu.

He turned to a business career after retirement and was executive vice president of Mid South Chemical Co. Inc., and a board member of Southern Airways.

ABC Agent in Fatal Shooting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski County authorities said Monday that a state Alcoholic Beverage Control Department agent shot and killed another man early Saturday at a night club southeast of Little Rock.

Chief Deputy Sheriff E. R. Adcox identified the agent as Isaiah Jones, 29, of Little Rock. Adcox said Jones, a Negro, apparently shot Eddie Lee Jackson, 22, of North Little Rock, also a Negro, in self-defense. County Coroner Dr. L. Gordon Holt is to rule on the shooting. No charges have been filed.

Panel for Added Funds to Arkansas

By DOUG STONE
Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Leaders of a black coalition called for a continuing school boycott and another protest march today after a "Black Monday" demonstration ended in a clash with police.

The coalition said the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and one of 53 persons arrested, would lead today's noon parade to City Hall. Police using tear gas fogging machines, dispersed protesting crowds after the officers were pelted with rocks and bottles following the Monday arrest of march leaders.

Today's march would not conflict with a police ban on traffic snarling evening demonstrations in the city's heart. It would follow a Veteran's Day parade planned by service groups in the city.

Abernathy and other demonstration leaders were told by the police at a barricade at Hernando and Beale Street that the "Black Monday" march could not proceed because it would snarl traffic in the downtown area.

By prior agreement with the police the leaders then submitted to arrest and were loaded on a city transit authority bus bound for the city jail. All were released on bail of $26 each or on their own recognizance.

Both sides had worked through the day to avoid a confrontation. The arrests on disorderly conduct charges were devised as a face saver for both city officials and the city's coalition of Negro groups, pressing demands for more representation in school affairs and recognition by a hospital of a mainly Negro union.

Most of about 800 persons in the line of march left the scene after the arrests but some 100 youthful demonstrators lagged behind. Despite efforts of their own parade marshals, they turned and headed for a street barricade about one-half block away.

Defects Show Up in 11 Per Cent of Cars

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The federal government claims that State Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion issued official legal opinions on the operation of Louisiana Loan & Thrift Co. for his "personal benefit."

The charge was made Monday when the Justice Department filed an answer in U.S. District Court to pretrial motions entered by Gremillion and four others indicted in connection with LL&T operations.

Gremillion claimed immunity from prosecution.

The indictments, returned last year, accused Gremillion, Rep. Salvador Anzelmo of New Orleans, Ernest Bartlett Jr., of Fort Smith, Ark., Charles Ritchey of Metairie and Joseph Kavanaugh of Baton Rouge of conspiracy, fraud and violations of federal securities laws.

"It is . . . clear that Gremillion was personally involved in the scheme to defraud . . . his writing of attorney general opinions was only one of the many services he performed in furtherance of the scheme," the Justice Department motion said.

"In fact, Gremillion was a central figure in a scheme to victimize the public by fraudulently selling securities."

"In the light of Gremillion's deep involvement it is patently absurd to argue that Gremillion was merely a disinterested public servant called upon to issue opinions in the regular course of his duties as attorney general."

No date was set for a hearing. The case is before U.S. Dist. Court Judge Fred Heebe.

Lottery to Be the Only Draft Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has put senators on notice that reform of the military draft this year will be limited to the President's lottery proposal or there will be no reform at all.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., with the unanimous vote of his committee behind him, issued that notice Monday although he insisted several times it was to ultimatum.

Stennis said he would meet with senators who want a sweeping, comprehensive overhaul of the Selective Service System now, to try to persuade them to hold off reform amendments until next year.

He and the committee promised to hold extensive hearings on draft reform proposals—including changes in deferments, conscientious objector status, methods of classification, and makeup of local draft boards—

Youth Wage Under $1.60 Is Planned

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-level Nixon administration fight is developing over a proposal initiated in the White House to set a special "youth wage" below the federal minimum wage of $1.60 per hour.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans has endorsed the idea, but a spokesman for Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said "he would be opposed to any suggestion that a youth wage could be below the $1.60 minimum."

Organized labor also is sure to oppose any federal plan to let youths work for less than the federal minimum.

"The effect would be to encourage employers to replace family breadwinners with kids at the lower wage rate," said one highly placed labor source. "There's nothing wrong with that," Stans was quoted as saying in an interview about the replacing of adult workers with youths.

He reportedly said the idea was to set a special, lower wage of $1.20 or $1.25 per hour for youths and "After they reach, say 21, they would get the regular minimum wage."

"Stans speaks for the employer point of view, while we speak for the labor point of view," said a source close to Shultz.

However, the Labor Department confirmed that a study has been underway for some time on what impact, if any, a lower wage minimum for youths would have on youth unemployment and unemployment generally.

Latest government reports show the jobless rate for American youths aged 16 to 19 was 13 per cent last month, compared with the national unemployment rate of 3.9 per cent for all workers.

Unemployment among Negro youths and other minority group youths has been running at 20 per cent or more in the past year.

Labor Department sources emphasized that no suggestion of a $1.25 or any lower hourly wage minimum for youth is contained so far in the study.

Panel for Added Funds to Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved an increase in funds for several public works projects in Arkansas, including an increase of $1.5 million for the Arkansas River Navigation program.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., made the announcement. The committee increased the river navigation appropriation from $58 million to $59.5 million. The appropriation for navigation projects on the Ouachita and Black Rivers will be increased $500,000 to $9.5 million.

The committee recommended a $1 million increase for construction on the St. Francis Basin and a $400,000 increase over the House proposal for works along the Ridge River.

The St. Francis Basin allotment on Little Bay Ditch No. 9 and Big Bay No. 10.

The committee also allocated $75,000 for flood control planning on Fouché Bayou and $50,000 for similar work in the Dark Hollow area of North Little Rock.

Increases for Bell Foley Dam, the Cache River project in Monroe County and the Lake Chicot project were also approved.

This is Arkansas' highway fatality number 506 for 1969 as compared to 585 on the same date in 1968.

Aces or Deuces? Eyes of a Poker Player May Give Hand Away

By MIKE DOAN
Associated Press Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A psychologist says the pupils in a poker player's eyes may tip off the kind of hand he is holding.

The pupils are apertures in the iris which normally expand in dim light or darkness and contract when the light is brighter.

But for an unexplained reason, Dr. Eckard H. Hess told a convention of the American College of Medical Hypnotists Monday, the pupils also grow bigger when the eye beholds something pleasant, like a full house or four of a kind.

And they get smaller when what's on view is a bottled flush or a busted straight.

Dr. Hess, of the University of Chicago, said a normal man's

Veterans Day Celebrated by U.S.A.

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans honored their war dead today amid demonstrations of support for President Nixon's Vietnam policy and preparations for protests against the U.S. course in that latest of conflicts.

Those who back the administration's Vietnam position seized on Veterans Day to try to signify that there is in fact a "great, silent majority" just as Nixon said in a Nov. 3 speech.

The date, which marked the end of fighting in World War I in 1918, was observed as Armistice Day until 1954. For the past 15 years it has been Veterans Day, a salute to American veterans of all wars.

Veterans Day 1969 comes only a week and a day after Nixon asked the nation for support on Vietnam and only two days before the start of a new round of war protests which are to wind up with a mass rally in Washington Saturday.

Ardent supporters of the President hoped today's activities would become a counterdemonstration to the war protest. Civic, fraternal and veterans' organizations came up with or announced support for ad hoc groups opposing moratoriums and other "get out of Vietnam now" demonstrations.

While they carried on their programs today, Nixon himself was headed for a veterans' hospital in the capital. His daughter, Mrs. David Eisenhower, followed his lead but chose a hospital in Northampton, Mass.

Nixon issued his Veterans Day proclamation on Sept. 24, calling for citizens to honor "those men who have preserved our Union and our freedom."

"I ask that special prayers for peace be offered for our men still involved in defending the inalienable right of liberty; and for those whose memory we honor with a star of gold, let us pause in silent tribute on this Veterans Day, praying that they did not die in vain and that their sacrifices will bring us peace."

Placing of the traditional presidential wreath for the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery was assigned to David Packard, deputy secretary of defense.

And the administrator of veterans affairs, Donald E. Johnson prepared a speech warmly supporting Nixon's attempt to end the war in Vietnam. He said tickets for all reserved seats for the 11 a.m. program at Arlington were taken for the first time in 16 years.

Johnson, a former national commander of the American Legion and a Nixon appointee, strongly endorsed the use of Veterans Day to show support for the administration's Vietnam policy. He sent 100,000 packets of material to school and community leaders.

"I do not presume to speak for him (Nixon)," Johnson said in his prepared remarks. "However, I do know how dedicated he is to the task of achieving the theme of Veterans Day 1969—peace with honor."

pupils may grow to twice their usual size when the eye registers a picture of a nude woman. A hungry person's pupils expand when he sees food.

Unaccountably, a man finds a woman's photograph more attractive if her pupils are dilated than he does if they are normal. Hess said the pupil reactions seem to provide a kind of window into the brain so that "all the world is able to see it."

He theorized that eye pupil research may help doctors to determine the progress of patients treated for problems such as homosexuality and obesity.

He said the principle already had been applied to determine the effectiveness of an advertising commercial or a new television show.

Bomb Wave Hits N.Y.C. Skyscrapers

NEW YORK (AP) — Bombs exploded in three Manhattan skyscrapers early today, slightly injuring one man and causing limited damage.

About six hours later a news agency received an unsigned special delivery letter saying, "During this week of antiwar protest, we set off explosions in offices of Chase Manhattan, Standard Oil, and General Motors."

The letter, blaming "the giant corporations of America" for the world's ills, was in the same literate, press release style of similar letters sent to news agencies after a bomb exploded outside Army and draft offices in the Manhattan federal building last Sept. 19.

Police said they were investigating the letter.

The new blasts occurred about 1:05 a.m., minutes after telephoned warnings. The letter claiming responsibility for them bore two separate postmarks, one at 11:10 p.m. and another at 12:02 a.m. It was sent to United Press International.

The blasts hit in the 70-story RCA Building in Rockefeller Center, the new 50-story General Motors Building at 59th Street and Fifth Avenue and the 60-story Chase Manhattan Building in the downtown financial district.

The blast in the GM building caught maintenance employee Joseph Brando, 26, of Brooklyn, in a freight elevator two floors away. His car plummeted six floors before it stopped and he managed to get out. He was not seriously injured.

All of the blasts occurred in or near elevator shafts causing heavy local damage but no fire. All occurred at about 1:05 a.m. EST. All could have been fatal to anyone in the immediate area, officials said.

First hint of the impending blasts came at 12:35 a.m. Police said a man telephoned the security police at the Chase Manhattan Building and warned: "There are three bombs which will go off at about the Unaccountably, a man finds a woman's photograph more attractive if her pupils are dilated than he does if they are normal. Hess said the pupil reactions seem to provide a kind of window into the brain so that "all the world is able to see it."

He theorized that eye pupil research may help doctors to determine the progress of patients treated for problems such as homosexuality and obesity.

Friend of Largest Women's School Is Firmly Against Men

By DEE WEDEMEYER
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Helen Kim, who has devoted almost her entire 70 years to helping Ewha University in Korea become one of the world's largest women's universities, doesn't care to see it admit men. She's also not endorsing coed dormitories.

"In Korea if anyone came out with that (coed dorms) we would question the sanity of that person's mind," said the educator who is in this country raising funds.

"There is enough human experience to tell us that close living quarters like dormitories should be separate at the college age level. Living closely between the sexes might also be a distraction."

"We may be wrong but we think some educators are going along with that idea because they have to, because the students are demanding it, not because they want to."

The petite woman, who can trace the entire development of education for Korean women within her own lifetime, said Korea's traditional secondary role for women makes separate education preferable.

Her own mother, she said, was punished when she asked for lessons in reading and writing.

At the time, Dr. Kim began school in 1907, a woman's college did not even exist in Korea. When she entered college, it meant giving up a family arranged marriage.

Now she said, women graduates are finding it easier to combine careers with marriage. College educated women have even become fashionable, she added.

Ewha University was founded in 1886 by an American missionary as a girls school. It opened with one student, became a college in 1910 and now has 8,000 students.

Some men's universities in Korea have admitted women, she said, and occasionally the question of integrating Ewha is raised but never seriously.

In fact, she thinks some of the men's colleges in Korea and in America which have admitted women may wish they could go back to all men.

Dr. Kim attended Ewha, then earned a bachelors degree at Ohio Wesleyan, a masters at Boston University and a doctorate at Columbia University. She was president of Ewha from 1939 to 1961.

Space Funds Cut Beaten by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warned it might leave American astronauts figuratively stranded on the moon, the Senate has rejected a proposed $100 million cut in the U.S. space budget.

"You chop a big chunk out of here and ... you won't have enough left to bring those poor fellows down," pleaded Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., before the 46-22 roll call vote to drop the cut.

Pastore said the cut, proposed by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., would "crucify the entire program."

Proxmire, who objected to the $3.7 billion earmarked for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in this fiscal year, said Americans already have paid $24 billion to see television record man's first steps on the moon.

"Even by Broadway standards this is a pretty stiff price for a front row seat," Proxmire said.

Debate on the appropriations measure, which provides a total of $14.9 billion for 21 federal agencies including NASA, was filled with references to Friday's blastoff of the Apollo 12 moonshot.

"We pray to God that it will be safe," said Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo. "If it is safe I am sure we will receive far more than we know now in scientific knowledge."

D.C. Judge Knocks Out Abortion Ban

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has struck down a District of Columbia law banning abortions performed by doctors and urged that his decision be appealed quickly to the Supreme Court.

Should the high court uphold the ruling, prohibitions on abortion—some enacted a century ago—could come tumbling down in scores of states.

U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Cressell's decision held Monday that a physician may not be prosecuted for performing an abortion.

Cressell ruled that the 1901 law banning abortions except when necessary to save a pregnant woman's life or health was so vague and indefinite as to be unconstitutional.

Although his ruling dealt most directly with the rights of a Washington doctor accused of performing an illegal abortion, the judge added:

"There has been increasing indication in decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States that as a secular matter, a woman's liberty and right of privacy extends to family, marriage and sex matters, and may well include the right to remove an unwanted child, at least in the early stages of pregnancy."

Since the law is a federal one, the ruling could be appealed directly to the Supreme Court. Cressell also suggested that Congress might want to rewrite it, providing more concrete terms.

The District of Columbia law is similar to laws in 40 states. A few states, of which Colorado was the first, have laws allowing doctors to perform abortions when pregnancy endangers a woman's physical or mental health, or when caused by rape or incest.

That position is embodied in a model law prepared by the American Medical Association and was brought before a number of state legislatures this year.

Fremont, O. Citizens Pay Taxes Early

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — People waited more than an hour in line Monday to pay next year's taxes so this city's schools could remain open for the rest of the year.

Treasurer Virgil Swartzlander said more than $235,000 was taken in on Sandusky County's largest single day of tax collection.

The payments are not due until late next month, but Robert Wolfe, owner of radio station WFRO here, suggested the early payment to keep the schools open.

Bennett Trial Postponed to December 19

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The trial of former Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett on a charge of driving while intoxicated has been set for Dec. 19 in Little Rock Municipal Court.

Bennett, who is in Barnes Hospital at St. Louis recovering from surgery for throat cancer, was to have stood trial on the charge last Friday. He is reported in satisfactory condition.

He also faces federal charges in U. S. District Court in Fort Smith in connection with operation of the now defunct Arkansas Loan & Thrift Corp. of Van Buren, but no trial date has been set.
